

HTML Web Development Assignment

Creating a Blog Post Website

Develop a single-page blog website showcasing your interests, thoughts, and passions. Let your unique personality shine through your design and content!

Task 1: Basic Structure - 2 marks

Create an HTML file named "index.html" that includes the basic structure of an HTML document. Set some meaningful titles and include appropriate meta tags.

Task 2: Header - 5 marks

Include a catchy title reflecting the blog's theme or your name.
Add a tagline or short description summarizing your blog's focus.

Task 3: Navigation Bar - 5 marks

Add a navigation bar to your webpage. Provide clear links to navigate between different blog posts. Consider including links to "About Me", "Contact", or other relevant sections.

Task 4: Blog Posts Section - 5 marks

Each post should have:

Title: Descriptive and attention-grabbing.

Summary: Briefly introduce the post's content.

Content: Engaging and well-written text showcasing your personality and perspective.

Image: Add a relevant image to enhance the post visually.

Task 5 : About Me: - 5 marks

Share a brief introduction about yourself and your interests. Explain the purpose of your blog and what readers can expect.

Task 6 : Contact: 8 marks

Offer ways for readers to connect with you:

Email address

Social media links

Contact form

Task 7: Embedded Video - 5 marks

Embed short video clips directly within their blog posts to illustrate specific points, showcase skills, or offer alternative perspectives.

Task 8 : Footer - 5 marks

Include copyright information or website credits.

You can add additional links or information relevant to your blog.

Screenshots for reference:

Header and Navigation:-

My Travel Blog

Welcome to my travel blog! I'm Joan Smith, a software engineer who loves exploring the world. Join me on my journey to discover amazing destinations and cultures around the globe. This blog will showcase my travel adventures, photography, and insights from the road. Whether you're a fellow wanderlust or an armchair traveler, I hope you enjoy following along on my trips near and far. Let's explore this beautiful planet together!

- Home
- Iceland
- Italy
- France
- Japan
- About
- Contact

Blog Post Section:-

Blog1:-

My Adventure in Iceland

I recently fulfilled my dream of visiting Iceland! This fascinating country is truly a land of extremes - from glaciers and volcanoes to hot springs and lava fields. Some highlights from my trip:

- Hiked up to see the stunning Skógafoss waterfall which drops 60m over a cliff.
- Went snowmobiling on the Myrdalsjökull glacier under the moonlight.
- Relaxed in the warm, mineral-rich waters of the Blue Lagoon geothermal spa.
- Watched the mesmerizing Northern Lights dance across the night sky.

I found the Icelandic people to be friendly and welcoming. The country's natural scenery is out of this world. Exploring the volcanic landscape makes you feel like you're on another planet! I can't wait to return to Iceland someday.

Blog2:-

The Foodie's Guide to Italy

They say the best part of traveling in Italy is the food - and I wholeheartedly agree! Here are some highlights from my culinary adventures in Italy:

- Tried traditional Neapolitan pizza with fresh buffalo mozzarella cheese and sweet San Marzano tomatoes.
- Sampled the finest authentic pasta dishes like cacio e pepe, carbonara, and bolognese.
- Indulged in scoops of velvety gelato in vibrant flavors like pistachio, stracciatella, and tiramisu.
- Sipped refreshing Aperol Spritz cocktails and Italian wines like Chianti in streetside cafes.

From the Mediterranean-inspired cuisine of the south to the hearty meat and cheese dishes of the north, every region in Italy has something unique to offer. The Italians truly know how to cook from the heart and honor the freshest local ingredients. I can't wait to return and discover more regional specialties!

Blog3:-

Wine Tasting in France

I had an amazing time touring the vineyards and wineries of France! As a wine lover, it was a dream to visit some of the world's most renowned wine regions.

In Bordeaux, I sampled incredible Cabernets and Merlots while soaking in the charming châteaux and medieval villages along the river. In Burgundy, I biked around quaint towns and tasted dazzling Pinot Noirs and Chardonnays. My favorite was Champagne, where touring the underground cellars and sipping bubbly was the perfect end to my wine adventures.

With its dedication to terroir and winemaking tradition, France offers an unparalleled wine tourism experience. I can't wait to return and discover more hidden gems!

*NO. of blog should be more then 1

About Me, Contact & Footer:-

About Me

Hi there, I'm Joan Smith and I created this blog to share my passion for travel and adventure!

As a software engineer by profession, travel provides the perfect outlet for my curiosity and creativity. This blog allows me to connect with like-minded travelers while documenting my own journey around the globe.

I hope my stories, photos, and tips will inspire you to step out of your comfort zone, explore new places, and create your own memorable experiences. Thanks for joining me!

Contact Me

Name:

Email:

Message:

LinkedIn

Github

Email

Copyright ©2023 My Travel Blog

Submission Guidelines:

- Submit a zip file containing all HTML files and any associated resources (images).
- Ensure your HTML code is well-structured, and use comments to explain complex sections.

Notes:

- Use semantic HTML tags for better accessibility.
- Test your forms to ensure they work as expected.

Evaluation Criteria:

Proper use of semantic HTML Tags for better accessibility - 5 marks

Creativity and Presentation - 5 marks

Marks are assigned after each task.